

EXAMINING THE ENVIRONMENT

A practical workshop on analyzing the environment in various work settings through the lens of Demand Control Schema (DC-S)

Signed language interpreters (SLIs) work in myriad settings. Particularly, private practice interpreters often find themselves in multiple settings over the course of one day. Many of the decisions we make are dependent upon the type of setting in which we are working at the time. During this hands-on workshop, workgroups will each select a unique setting to evaluate, research, and report back upon using the framework of the Demand Control Schema; particularly environmental and interpersonal demand categories for each setting.

INTERPRETERS WILL BUILD SKILLS IN DETERMINING:

- * THE GOALS AND VALUES OF VARIOUS ENVIRONMENTS
- * TERMINOLOGY UNIQUE TO AN ENVIRONMENT
- * TEAM MEMBERS' ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES
- * UNIQUE PROTOCOLS
- * COMMON QUESTIONS THAT MAY ARISE
- * PARTICIPANT THOUGHT WORLDS, COMMUNICATION GOALS, AND DYNAMICS

Know more of what to expect and be better prepared to work in a variety of settings.

The presenter is a nationally certified interpreter with a Master of Science in Healthcare Interpretation. She has been interpreting, mentoring, and presenting for over 14 years.

Contact below to schedule a presentation!

JASMINE MARIN, MS

P.O. Box 164
Kingman, AZ 86402

www.mohaveinterpreting.com

admin@mohaveinterpreting.com

614/374-6269